

The Small Business Watchdog

Official Blog of the U.S. Small Business Administration's Office of Advocacy

SBA's Office of Advocacy Blog Policy

The purpose of this blog is to discuss the research and federal and state regulatory information developed and disseminated by the Office of Advocacy. We encourage your comments; your ideas and concerns are important to ensure that a broad range of Americans are active and informed participants in the discussion of small business issues.

This is a moderated blog. We expect that participants will treat each other with respect. All comments will be reviewed before posting. We will not post comments that contain vulgar language; personal attacks of any kind; or offensive terms that target specific ethnic, religious, gender or racial groups. We will not post comments that are spam, are clearly off topic or that promote services or products. Comments that are defamatory or make unsupported accusations will also not be posted. We will also not post comments from children under the age of 13 due to the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act.

We recognize that the Web is a 24/7 medium, and your comments are welcome at any time. However, moderating and posting of comments will occur during regular business hours Monday through Friday. Comments submitted after hours or on weekends will be read and posted as early as possible the next business day.

For the benefit of robust discussion, we ask that comments remain on-topic.

To protect your own privacy and the privacy of others, please do not include phone numbers or email addresses in the body of your comment.

Thank you for taking the time to read this comment policy. We encourage your participation in our discussion and look forward to an active exchange of information.
